DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to the application filed on 12 November 2001 in which claims 1-19 are pending. The examiner requests that the following references listed on the following Samsung patents (U.S. Patent No. 6,487,300) be submitted for review: JP 10-014195, JP 10-117472, JP 10-229596, KR 98-22244, KR 98-22659, KR 98-23812, KR 98-23815.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-19 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/078074 (Chung), in view of "Advanced Speaker Systems" (Ray Alden).

Regarding claims 1-19, Chung discloses a multi-function actuator having a case, a vibrating coil installed in the case, a diaphragm, voice coil fixedly installed in the bottom of the diaphragm, a vertically magnetized magnet, a yoke, a weight, and suspension (spring). Chung does not teach having a notch filter (claim 1) or a high-pass filter (claim 5). However, Ray

Art Unit: 2643

Alden ("Advanced Speaker Systems", pages 71-86) teaches that it is known to include filters, such as high pass, low pass, notch (specific type of bandpass) which utilize resistors, capacitors, and inductors in speaker actuating circuits for separating the frequency response into different frequency levels, i.e. woofer level, tweeter level, or midrange level. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a filters, such as notch or high pass, in the invention of Chung for providing a frequency separation circuit (cross-over network) to the speaker system.

Furthermore, the combination of Chung and Alden does not teach the filter composed of resistor(s), capacitor(s), and/or inductor(s) in series, parallel, T-type, L-type, or π -type configurations. However, the examiner takes official notice that it is known in electronic theory to implement filter design in any of the above configurations for damping resonance peaks produced at the different frequency levels. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use any of the above filter configurations in the invention of Chung and Alden, to damp desired resonance peaks.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
